Two engines were turned out from the machine works yesterday, one, No. 46, being entirely new having been constructed there but the other, No. 288, had only received some thorough repairs.

THE MEAT INSPECTOR LAW.

Delay in Making the Roanoke Ap- pointment—No Applicants.

The position of meat inspector seems to be going a begging in Roanoke, and thus far not a single application for the office has been received by Judge Robertson, upon whom the act confers the power of appointment. So no action has yet been taken and will not be until a petition from at least twenty citizens recommending a candidate has been sent in. Appointments have been made in nearly every other city in the state.

The law will be almost a dead letter and non-operative in this city, as not a pound of western beef is sold by Roanoke butchers. The only effect will be to subject Virginia slaughtered meat that comes here from over 100 miles distance. This will probably result in the establishing of pens near this city where cattle will be killed for the home market.

The Famous Apple Tree

A company has bought up built around Appomattox Court House the site of the surrender of Lee's army, and laid it off in lots.

Some prominent grand army of U. S. interested in the project, at the idea seems to be to get the Grand Army of the Republic to make place the national camp ground.

Among those interested in this scheme are Governor Campbell, of Ohio, other well-known capitalists.

The president of the company is Gen. S. Burdett. Samuel M. Bryan, president of the Bell Telephone Company, is the treasurer.

Death of Jacob Thomas Miller.

The body of Jacob Thomas Miller, the five-year-old son of Mr. E. P. Miller, was taken to Danville for interment on the 5 o'clock train last evening. The boy died on Wednesday and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. Bushnell yesterday from the residence of his parents on Third avenue northwest.

The monument to the memory of General Robert E. Lee, which will be unveiled in Richmond on May 29, will stand sixty-one feet and two inches above the ground. Of this height the base and pedestal will take thirty-nine feet and Mercie's equestrian statue of horse and rider in bronze will make the remaining twenty-two feet and two inches.

Funeral of the Late J. M. Paschall.

The late J. M. Paschall was buried yesterday in the city cemetery at 10 o'clock. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. E. Bushnell of St. Mark's church. Mr. Paschall was a promising young man of twenty-three, and came to this city from North Carolina. He leaves a brother, Mr. J. R. Paschall, who is in business here.
